Los Angelitos Orphanage is a children's home that provides underprivileged children the opportunity to experience secure living conditions, nurtured upbringing, schooling, and a pleasant family life. All are either orphans or abandoned children that would otherwise be living on the streets of Tijuana.

Proof Positive That Your Effort Makes A Difference ...

Tijuana born Maria (age 3) and her brother, Luis (age ?), were brought to Los Angelitos following a severe beating from their crystal meth-addicted parents. Upon arrival, they were slow to become acclimated to their new environment. They often appeared withdrawn and could be found curled up and crying in each other's arms.

The other children also came from similar traumatic backgrounds. It's this connection that soon helped Maria and Luis drop their guarded exterior. In one particular case, a little angel named Elena played a nurturing role by helping the siblings adapt to the pattern of a structured life — eating three meals a day, changing clothing, interacting with the other children, etc. Call it 'group therapy' for new arrivals.

It is this kind of atmosphere that the Director and staff of Los Angelitos strive to foster. Their endless compassion for these children is reflected in the hearts and actions of each child. Further, the kindness and support from you enable Los Angelitos to continue to do this amazing work.

What happened to Maria and Luis? They are living with a loving couple who adopted both siblings over a year ago.

Whom Must We Send Back?

The Children of Los Angelitos Need Your Help!

Without a consistent stream of support, we are often faced with the decision of whom to send back to the “children’s detention building” (Department of Social Services in Mexico) or out to the streets of Tijuana?

As guardians of these little ones, we are always seeking funds to feed, to clothe, and to provide a roof over our children. The cost to care for one child at Los Angelitos is $384 per year. That’s $32 per month to help protect the life and innocence of one child.

We hope that caring individuals or groups of donors pooling their gifts will help support our children each and every year. Please ask your friends, family, and fellow members of any organization you are involved with, to help the children of Los Angelitos.

The Los Angelitos Orphanage Foundation is a non-profit public benefit corporation formed in the State of California (California Corporation #3029730, IRS Tax ID No. 26-1563692)
